

The Annual Spring

LONERGAN COLLOQUIUM: PHILOSOPHY AND THEOLOGY

Phenomenology and Catholic Philosophy (in North America)

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY,
FEBRUARY 12–13, 2015
RAYNOR MEMORIAL LIBRARIES,
BEAUMIER SUITES, B and C

A colloquium on the relationship between phenomenology and Catholic philosophy in North America, with consideration given to Bernard Lonergan's place as a transitional figure in 20th-century Catholic philosophy. Panels will cover some aspects of the relationship's past, its structural features, and its future.

Thursday, February 12 | 4:00 p.m.

Phenomenology and Catholic Philosophy: Vignettes from the Past

Dr. Patrick H. Byrne, Boston College

Gregory Floyd, Ph.D. Candidate, Boston College

Stephanie Rumpza, Ph.D. Candidate, Boston College

Friday, February 13 | 10:00 a.m.

Phenomenology and Catholic Philosophy: Articulating the Connection

Dr. Crina Gschwandtner, Fordham University

Dr. Danielle K. Nussberger, Marquette University

Dr. Bruce Ellis Benson, Wheaton College, Illinois

Friday, February 13 | 2:00 p.m.

Phenomenology and Catholic Philosophy: Prospects and Problems for the Future

Dr. Jeffrey Bloechl, Boston College

Dr. William Desmond, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven and David R. Cook Visiting Chair in Philosophy at Villanova University

Dr. Sebastian Luft, Marquette University

MARQUETTE
UNIVERSITY

BE THE DIFFERENCE.